Overview

Consequent to the grand success of FGI EXPO 2010- Ancillary Development Summit, held in December 2010, FGI is now poised to organize the 2nd edition of its flagship event, FGI EXPO 2013 - Auto Summit from 3rd to 5th January 2013 at its state of the art Business Centre in Vadodara, Gujarat. The Government of Gujarat's mandate to hold the FGI EXPO 2013 as a precursor to the Vibrant Gujarat 2013 Summit, supported by INDEXTb, Govt. of Gujarat and the presence of prominent players from the field will give a great thrust to Large and MSME sectors and the farming community.

Agro Industry

The Indian economy continues to be an Agrarian Economy inspite of substantial growth in industry and service sector. Growth in the Agriculture Sector impacts not only the economic development, but also helps maintain the social balance of our country- the largest democracy in the world.

As various countries strive to induce efficiency and effectiveness in this all important segment, India lags behind. There is an immediate need to revolutionize the agricultural sector to feed a growing population and maintain economic growth.

Gujarat has witnessed a decade of astronomical growth pegged at 10.97 % against the national average of 4%. The growth has been propelled by several key initiatives taken by the State government. There is a need to brainstorm and identify steps to overcome barriers faced by our farmers. There is also a need to assess the impact of climate change on agriculture and evolve methods to mitigate the same.

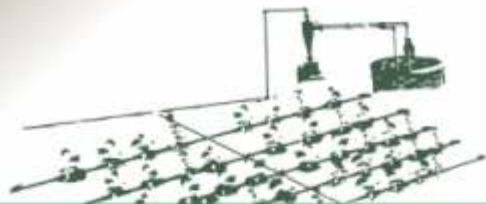

FGI has in all earnest decided to take on the subject of agro-technology as a precursor to the Vibrant Gujarat Global Summit. We propose to invite a country which is well developed in agro-technology, as a partner country. The FGI EXPO 2013 – AGRO Summit will also give a platform to the farmers from all over Gujarat to have an interaction with the exhibitors and participants to emulate their systems to improve productivity.

Aim

To provide a platform to the Large and Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises (MSME), research organisations, entrepreneurs to demonstrate the latest technologies and development in the field of Agriculture and bring together the best minds for the overall growth of the Agro Industry thereby benefitting our farmer community. The FGI AGRO EXPO 2013 is a focused exhibition striving to bring B2B benefits to the Exhibitors and industrial visitors from Agro Sectors.
